FROM THE PRESIDENT

I really look forward to seeing you this winter and spring! It appears that winter is here! I feel ready for it with my coat, mittens, boots, shovel, and battery charger. While we can anticipate the cold and snow, are we ever really ready for it? My hope is that all the snowstorms begin after our Tuesday meetings or on the weekends so getting to and from the meetings will be easier. I would not be surprised, if by the time you receive this, we will have had our first “official” snowstorm.

We have had some great fall programs starting in September with a lively presentation by our new neighbor, Minnesota’s First Lady, Gwen Waltz. We learned about raising a family in the Governor’s Residence, a day in the life of a First Lady, and even the contents of a busy woman’s purse! Our other topics have been so diverse---Women in Farming; Addressing Climate Change; Science through Art, Music, Spoken Word, and Girls on the Run; to mention a few. I hope some of us will be able to attend Ten Thousand Things Theater this year.

Tech Tutors will continue their mission of making technology accessible to members by offering very informative sessions led by Pam Steuart and Alta Oben. Learn how to sell on Craigslist and how to use smart phone apps to improve your memory. Check it out; you will learn so much!

It is exciting that we have over 30 new members who continue to add new vitality to the organization. AAUW is continually challenging me and engaging my mind, and this upcoming 990 News lists many more opportunities. I am looking forward to learning about Faith Sullivan’s journey as an author; a presentation about Missing and Murdered Native American Women; Natalie Warren telling us about her 2,000-mile expedition; MPR’s Brian Newhouse’s account of the Minnesota Orchestra’s trips to Cuba and South Africa; more details about Single Payer Healthcare Reform; and a program concerning Aging in Place.

In addition, there are field trips, cultural outings, volunteer opportunities, and, of course, all of the Great Decisions Sessions that help us understand the world. As I look back through the 990 News for the last years, I am totally AMAZED by the diversity and originality of the programs . . . in addition to the programming, we have contributed to volunteer programs to benefit kids in need, we have socialized over tea, we have managed a terrific book sale, and we supported a terrific scholarship program.

In January, Diana Pierce will lead off our new year by providing an insight into her new endeavor entitled What’s Next? with Diana Pierce.

11:00 a.m. What's Next Diana Pierce

Since the earliest times of human cognition, we've told stories. Stories define us. Ms. Diana Pierce has always been fascinated by those who share stories of struggle and ultimately choose positive change. What made them do it? What might we learn from it? How might that positive change guide future decisions?

Sharing stories is why Ms. Pierce became a journalist. Continuing to share these stories with a focus on stories for a 50+ audience is my current passion on What's Next? with Diana Pierce. These interviews are posted on Facebook and YouTube. Her hope is that these new stories inspire others to reflect and respond in their own positive way. Also, if you have a story that needs to be shared, she'd love to add it to the mix.

Ms. Pierce had more than a 30-year career at KARE-TV (Mpls-NBC) as an anchor/reporter. In addition, she's featured in videos for the Minnesota Senior LinkAge Line and Blue Cross Blue Shield- Minnesota. Diana is also, a speaker for Women in Leadership events.

Sulfide mining threatens Lake Superior, the Boundary Waters, and even the Mississippi River watersheds of Minnesota. The PolyMet/Glencore mine is the first sulfide mine ever proposed in Minnesota, and it would serve as the snowplow behind which many other dangerous mines would follow. PolyMet has obtained state and federal permits, but WaterLegacy and other groups are fighting back. Paula Maccabee, WaterLegacy's Advocacy Director and Legal Counsel, will share the concealment and irregularities that have been exposed that allowed a weak and inadequate PolyMet water pollution permit to be issued. You'll hear the latest on the victories obtained and challenges faced opposing the PolyMet sulfide mine. She will also discuss what all of us can do to protect regulatory integrity, clean water, health, climate, and justice in Minnesota.

March 25, 2020 Evening Program

Concerns about Russian interference in elections and Chinese intellectual property theft have highlighted the importance of the internet in national security conversations. Security professionals are increasingly grappling with new and old adversaries in the cyber environment. At the same time, the introduction of the internet into new venues is enabling the spread of hateful racial and ethnic messages in fragile states. Better understanding of the cyber environment, stakeholders, and policy options is critical to both U.S. national security and global stability.

The year is 1924. This drama recounts the horrific events and shameful history of housing segregation in St. Paul's Groveland Park neighborhood. William and Nellie Francis, both civil rights advocates and leading citizens in St. Paul's growing African- American community, dared to move from their home in the Rondo neighborhood to the "home of their dreams" in this all-white neighborhood. Little did they know neighbors would burn a cross in their front yard in an attempt to terrorize them and force them to abandon their dreams.

Andrew Latham

Many people think that they know the Middle East: Israel vs. the Palestinians, Israel vs. its Arab neighbors, and Israel vs. Iran. They think of the Middle East as a part of the world where the Israeli-Palestinian problem is the core problem and where the so-called Two State solution (Israel and Palestine living side-by-side in peace) is thought to be the solution. While once an accurate representation of the situation in the region, it no longer is. There has been a revolutionary transformation in the geopolitics of the region--- one with enormous consequences not only for the countries in the region, but for the United States as well.

Mr. Andrew Latham is a professor of Political Science at Macalester College in Saint Paul, Minnesota. He regularly teaches courses in Medieval Political Thought, Conservative Political Thought, War (including just war-theory), and International Security. His most recent publications include an academic book entitled Theorizing Medieval Geopolitics: War and World Order in the Age of the Crusades, and his first novel, The Holy Lance. In addition to academic journals, he has also published in Christian magazines such as First Things, Crisis, Commonweal, and Touchstone.

Annual Spring Book Sale

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY, and SUNDAY

The annual spring book sale will be on Thursday, April 23 through Sunday, April 26, 2020. This a fundraiser for our Scholarship Trust, and members make it successful by donating books in good sale-worthy condition. Newer books, within the last five years, are especially desirable. We cannot accept encyclopedias, magazines, periodicals, textbooks, or books in bad condition. Books that are yellowed with age, mildewed, torn, or marked should be recycled.

We will accept donations until April 8 when donations must cease so that we may prepare for the sale. We accept cash or checks made out to St. Paul AAUW for the books but not credit cards.

Volunteers will be needed to set up and help during the book sale and to help with the cleanup. In early April there will be sign-up sheets at the clubhouse with dates and times available for volunteer opportunities.

We are very grateful to members, their families, and friends who donate books and spread the word to make our sale successful.

The United States and Mexico: Partnership Tested

The United States and Mexico have a long, intertwined history, with both countries prominently featured in each other's politics and agendas. The war on drugs, immigration, and trade issues have taxed the relationship over the years. What impact will new leadership in both countries have on this crucial partnership?

State of the State Department and Diplomacy

During the Trump administration, the usual ways of conducting diplomacy have been upended. Many positions in the State Department have never been filled, and meetings with foreign leaders such as Kim Jong-un and Vladimir Putin have been undertaken with little advance planning. What effect are these changes having now, and how will they affect ongoing relationships between the United States and its allies and adversaries?

Climate Change and the Global Order

Climate change has become one of the defining issues of our time. As much of the world bands together to come up with a plan, the U.S. remains the notable holdout. What is the rest of the world doing to combat climate change? What impact will the effects of climate change have on global geopolitics?

India and Pakistan

India's Prime Minister Narendra Modi rode a wave of Hindu nationalism to a historic reelection in 2019. His first order of business was to revoke the special status granted to the Kashmir region, inflaming the rivalry between India and Pakistan. How will the Kashmir situation affect the region, both economically and politically?

Red Sea Security

The Red Sea has remained vital for global trade since the time of ancient Egypt. Once home to the spice trade, the Red Sea now sees millions of barrels of oil a day transported across its waters. With major nations like China, France, Italy, and the U.S. building large ports and bases in the region, what does the future of the region look like? How important is Red Sea security for global security? Can the region be a place of global cooperation?

PROPERTY NEWS

Greetings from the Property Committee's Chair Paulette Medin.

I would like to introduce the members of the Property Committee. The Lawn and Garden sub-committee members are Tamra Maughan, Alice Faribault, Peggy Hall, Carol Hanson, and Nancy Anson. Members of the Interior Decorating sub-committee are Jan Quist, Diane Follmer, and Linda Webster. Joanne Dubois and Carol Hanson are on the Inventory sub-committee.

There have been many projects that we have been working on this summer and fall. The new ramp was started in August and is used for handicapped access and transferring chairs and other equipment from the house to and from the garage. The edges of the new ramp are limestone slabs cut to match the house. The tile and railings will be added after the concrete cures. The new curved steps add a graceful setting for a bride's entrance and the extra cement space at the bottom of the steps will be useful for outdoor weddings for the bar setup. The new ramp is a great accomplishment and addition to the house!

Another project we have been working on is the addition of a new fireplace door for the living room. It was installed toward the end of October. A third project is to find blackout shades for the east side of the great hall to cut down on noise and light during weddings.

Last year we had a basement cleanup day and this year on Monday, October 7, at 1:00 p.m. we cleaned the third floor and put window film on all the third floor leaky windows to save on heating costs.

We are always looking for new members for all of the committees, especially the Interior Decorating sub-committee. Please contact any committee member or me if you are interested in joining. We meet the second Monday of the month at 10:00 a.m. in the Gold Room.

Planning an event?

When you recommend the St. Paul College Club to friends, neighbors, business associates and family members, you are helping St. Paul AAUW. It is our business operation. When the College Club (SPCC) does well, we benefit. Business profits have supported many of the renovations we have completed and those still in progress. Please share with those you know how the lovely, updated yet historic exterior and interior of our clubhouse can enhance any event. Let them know of the delicious menu options and the fine service provided by our capable and attentive staff. Please encourage those who are looking for the perfect location for their upcoming special occasion to contact the St. Paul College Club at 651-227-4477. Our event planners are talented in assisting each customer to create a personalized and memorable event.

Thinking of donating a treasure?

Please contact the Property Committee Chair if you have an item that you think may be suitable for our clubhouse. The Property Committee will make careful decisions on whether to accept possible donations of furniture, lamps, and artwork. Acceptance of any item is dependent on how it will fit into the long-term decorating plan for this house/business venue.
